

Vantage and Vantage Platinum

What about the charges?

HANSARD
INTERNATIONAL

Have you considered the effect of charges on the performance of your contract? You may be surprised at how little unit fund growth is required to meet the cost of the product charges.

The tables below show the yearly accumulator unit price growth required to offset our standard product charges:

	Monthly Contribution	Term
		10 years	15 years	20 years
Vantage Platinum	USD 2,500	0.96%	0.51%	0.37%
	USD 1,750	1.00%	0.53%	0.38%
	USD 1,000	1.06%	0.57%	0.42%
Vantage	USD 800	1.43%	0.93%	0.76%
	USD 400	3.09%	2.01%	1.58%

For example, a growth rate of 0.37% per year on a Vantage Platinum contract with a monthly contribution of USD 2,500 over a 20 year term would result in a maturity value of USD 600,000 – the same as the contributions paid. Growth over 0.37% per year increases the contract holder's return.

	Monthly Contribution	Term
		10 years	15 years	20 years
Vantage Platinum	GBP 1,500	0.97%	0.51%	0.37%
	GBP 1,000	1.00%	0.54%	0.39%
	GBP 750	1.04%	0.56%	0.41%
Vantage	GBP 500	1.45%	0.94%	0.78%
	GBP 250	3.14%	2.05%	1.61%

For example, a growth rate of 0.37% per year on a Vantage Platinum contract with a monthly contribution of GBP 1,500 over a 20 year term would result in a maturity value of GBP 360,000 – the same as the contributions paid. Growth over 0.37% per year increases the contract holder's return.

The growth rates quoted are based on an even increase in accumulator unit prices throughout the term. Quoted unit prices are net of the product annual management charges, underlying fund manager charges and other administration expenses. The illustrated values include the extra allocation special offer and are based on all standard product charges. No allowance has been made for conditional charges (for example, switching charges, if applicable). It is assumed that all contributions are paid as planned and that no withdrawals are taken. An exchange rate of USD 1.50 : GBP 1.00 has been used.
